1. Organizers and Sponsor

Organizers:

- ✧ 清华大学公共管理学院中国公共管理案例中心 China Case Center for Public Policy and Management (CCCPPM), School of Public Policy and Management (SPPM), Tsinghua University
- ✧ 清华大学全球可持续发展研究院 Institute for Sustainable Development Goals of Tsinghua University (Tsinghua SDG Institute)

Sponsor:

- ✧ 晶澳太阳能科技股份有限公司 JA Solar Technology Co., Ltd.

2. Theme: Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs)

The 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development, adopted by all United Nations Member States in 2015, provides a shared blueprint for peace and prosperity for people and the planet, now and into the future. At its heart are the 17 Sustainable Development Goals, which are an urgent call for action by all countries - developed and developing - in a global partnership. They address the global challenges we face, including those related to poverty, inequality, climate change, environmental degradation, peace and justice, and so on. The 17 SDGs are integrated - that is, they recognize that action in one area will affect outcomes in others, and that development must balance social, economic, and environmental sustainability. Achieving the SDGs requires the partnership of governments, private sector, civil society and citizens alike to make sure we leave a better planet for future generations.

2023 Tsinghua International Case Analysis Competition of Public Policy on SDGs

To participate in this competition, you should choose a topic about the 17 Sustainable Development Goals based on your research interests and experience, and conduct public policy case studies that reflect real-world scenarios and practices. You have the opportunity to focus on case stories in local communities or which affect people around the world. The topic you select should enable you to examine the issue from multiple perspectives, but it should not be too broad in scope. The competition is looking for case studies that strike a good balance between a well-told story and sufficient data, and that demonstrate your solid policy knowledge and excellent analytical skills.

3. Why Participate In?

- The competition provides a platform for you to cooperate, communicate, and compete with students from various countries, disciplines, and cultures.
- You will have a chance to work in teams to interview organizations and people, investigate real-world problems, discover interesting stories, and find innovative public policy solutions for the SDGs.
- You will get an opportunity to practice the case study method, apply and integrate knowledge, skills, theories and experience by discussing complex real-life challenges.
- The SPPM will select excellent candidates from the competition to study at the Tsinghua-Geneva Dual Degree Master of Public Policy for Sustainable Development Goals (MPP-SDG) program, and the SPPM's PhD program.

4. Eligibility

- Current undergraduate and master's students are eligible to take part in this competition without any geographical restrictions.
- You can participate in the competition as an individual or in a team of up to four people. Each student is allowed to join only one team. If there is a master's student in your team, your team should register as a master's student team on the online platform.
- Case studies must be written in English, and should be original work that has not been submitted elsewhere, and be free of copyright disputes.
- CCCPPM is organizing two case analysis competitions this year - one in Chinese and the other in English. You are only allowed to participate in one competition.

5. Timetable (GMT+8, Beijing Time)

(1) April 20, 2023 - May 20, 2023 (Registration & Submission of Proposal)
